

ABOUT THE LECTURER

Name:

Kevin Koh

Position:

Head of English Programme

Status:

Full-Time

Highest Academic Qualification:

BA Computing & Information Systems

Education Institution:

University of Brighton, England

BIOGRAPHY

Kevin has innovation, passion, and enthusiasm for English Language teaching. He was born and raised in London, England. He is a native English speaker with considerable experience in educating small to large groups of students at various levels, different age groups, and from over 24 different countries. In addition, he has instructed students in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL), International English Language Testing System (IELT), and taught foreign professionals in Business English. He helps, supports, and cares about the success of his students; he has helped them progress to achieve their educational, vocational, and personal goals.

Kevin graduated from the University of Brighton in England with a Bachelor of Arts in Computing and Information Systems and worked for both Oracle Corporation and IBM for 13 years, training staff and implementing systems in the US and the UK. He holds a TESOL from the London Teacher Training College (LTTTC). His favourite quote is “Character is the ability to carry out a worthy goal long after the emotion with which it was made has passed”.

性格是一种将一个有意义的目标坚持下去的能力，即使当时树立该目标的激情早已过去